Red Leader Letter Seen Propaganda

Russian Premier Asks Sessions To End Bomb Testing

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower was expected today to brush aside a 3,000-word letter from Soviet Premier Bulganin. The Russians called the letter "very important" and American officials dismissed it as propaganda.

The message was reported to renew old Soviet proposals to end nuclear bomb tests and to hold a high-level East-West conference to outlaw war.

Timing Seen Significant

The 15-page document, handed the State Department yesterday, apparently contained no new proposals. Its timing was significant, though, since it came just as Eisenhower prepared to go to the North Atlantic Pact summit conference opening Monday at Paris.

Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin called the letter "very important" when he talked to reporters after delivering it. But American officials said it was designed to undercut the NATO meeting and to block any attempt to arm America's European allies with nuclear-tipped missiles.

The State Department withheld formal comment until the letter could be translated and dissected by experts.

It was learned, meanwhile, that these were its main proposals:

1. A halt after Jan. 1 to all nuclear bomb testing. The Western Allies already have rejected this, saying it fails to get at the core of the problem: a ban on A-bomb and H-bomb production with safeguards to prevent cheating. Besides, the Allies want to keep testing for a "clean" H-bomb and small tactical A-bombs.
2. An East-West "conference of leaders" to outlaw war. This, too, has been turned down. The Allies argue it is that shows summit conferences or foreign ministers meetings never get down to brass tacks.
3. First Aided By Poland
4. A prohibition on producing or stockpiling nuclear weapons in Communist Poland and East and West Germany. This idea was first put forward by Poland at the United Nations last Oct. 2. Nothing came of it. Two weeks earlier Russia had threatened to arm its satellites with nuclear weapons if West Germany got them.
5. The usual Soviet pitch about normalizing world relations and increasing East-West trade. Here again the Allies take the position that such "generalizations" are worthless unless the Soviets are willing to deal with specifics.

Reds Open Another "Peace Offensive"

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet Union has opened another "peace offensive" on the eve of the Paris NATO meeting aimed at getting the Soviet position on the international situation solidly on the record.

As in past periods of past world tension, this offensive has been launched in a series of letters from Premier Bulganin to world leaders.

This time they went to President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Adenauer, with an aside asking an end of nuclear tests sent to an established supporter of a test ban, Prime Minister Nehru of India.

(In Washington, the letter sent Eisenhower was unofficially labeled propaganda.)

Observers here said the letters would provide a key to the Kremlin.

Boy, 14, Admits Starting Blaze, Woman Killed

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (U)—Investigators said last night a 14-year-old boy admitted he started the million-dollar fire which destroyed most of the Lathrop Building in Fairbanks Nov. 23 and killed Dr. Druska Schaeble, professor of biological sciences at the University of Alaska.

The boy's name was not disclosed.

Fire Inspector Robert Hartwell said the boy told him he started the fire in a box of trash in the second-floor hall. He returned several minutes later and reported the fire to the building superintendent. He gave no reason for his action.

Army Pushes Plans To Launch Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U)—The Army, successful last night in launching a modified Redstone test rocket, pushed on today with its program to put up a baby moon.

Top engineers of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency from Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., were here and the Army launching area at the Air Force Missile Test Center bristled with interrelated weapons of the Redstone family, waiting for firing.

Additional launchings may be expected almost daily until the climactic attempt to put up an instrumented satellite, and to succeed where the Navy Vanguard attempt of last Friday failed.

The Defense Department said the Redstone test vehicle launched last night was in the Army Jupiter program.

The program also includes the Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile, capable of distances of 1,500 miles, and the Jupiter C research rocket, which already has been fired a distance of 3,500 miles and to an altitude of 600 miles.

Top defense officials visiting the Army Jupiter missile production line at Huntsville were shown a sample of the Army's satellite.

It will weigh about the same as the 21-pound sphere which the Vanguard project hopes eventually to put into orbit.

Turk Police Quell Riots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (U)—Turkish riot police drove off stone-throwing Greek Cypriot students with baton charges today on the fifth straight day of disturbances touched off by the U.N. Cyprus debate.

The students gathered at a school and began hurling stones when police ordered them to leave.

Order was restored quickly with the arrival of a baton-swinging Turkish mobile reserve force. But there was fear that the incident might spark other Greek-Turkish conflicts on the British colony island.

Deputy Freed By White Jury In Slaying Of Negro Student

WILLIAMSTON, N. C. (U)—A man who had been making telephone calls to Polly Robertson, 25, an attractive waitress, was freed by a white jury in the slaying of a Negro college student suspected of trying to make a date with a white woman by telephone.

The jury deliberated 15 minutes before freeing Dallas Holliday, 37, of a second degree murder charge in the shooting of Joseph J. Cross, 21, near Williamston the night of Sept. 7. Cross was a senior at A&T College in Greensboro.

Sheriff R. W. Rawls told the Superior Court jury that Cross was shot during a tussle with Holliday. The shooting occurred, he would pull behind her, blink its light, after a trap was set to catch lights three times and blow it

Bishop Chosen In Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON (U)—Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the U. S., announced today that Pope Pius XII has named new bishops for the dioceses of Altoona-Johnstown, Pa., and Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Howard J. Carroll, 55, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, since 1944, has been appointed Bishop of Altoona-Johnstown.

Wage Hikes To Be Goal Of AFL-CIO

Reuther To Urge Shorter Week As Employment Drops

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U)—AFL-CIO chiefs turned today from their corruption problems to bread-and-butter demands for higher wages and reduced working hours.

Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, prepared to take the floor in his first major speech of the AFL-CIO convention in behalf of a resolution calling for a round "of sizable wage increases" and a shortened work week.

Unemployment Rise Seen

These demands jibe with Reuther's plans for bargaining with the auto industry next year and reflect the fears of AFL-CIO economists that unemployment, already reported at 3.2 million in November by the government, may rise to six million by spring.

"The very fact of an economic slackening makes it double imperative that unions gain sizable wage increases to bolster consumer buying power, and thereby provide a needed stimulating force for an upturn in the economy," said the AFL-CIO's policy resolution.

The drive for shorter hours is directly contrary to the proposal made by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) that the present 40-hour work week be scrapped as part of a full mobilization schedule to meet Russia's Sputnik and missile development.

Top labor chiefs here scoffed at Johnson's plan.

Ches Thompson, Labor Union president, said "we'd better find jobs for thousands of aircraft and guided missile workers laid off in recent months."

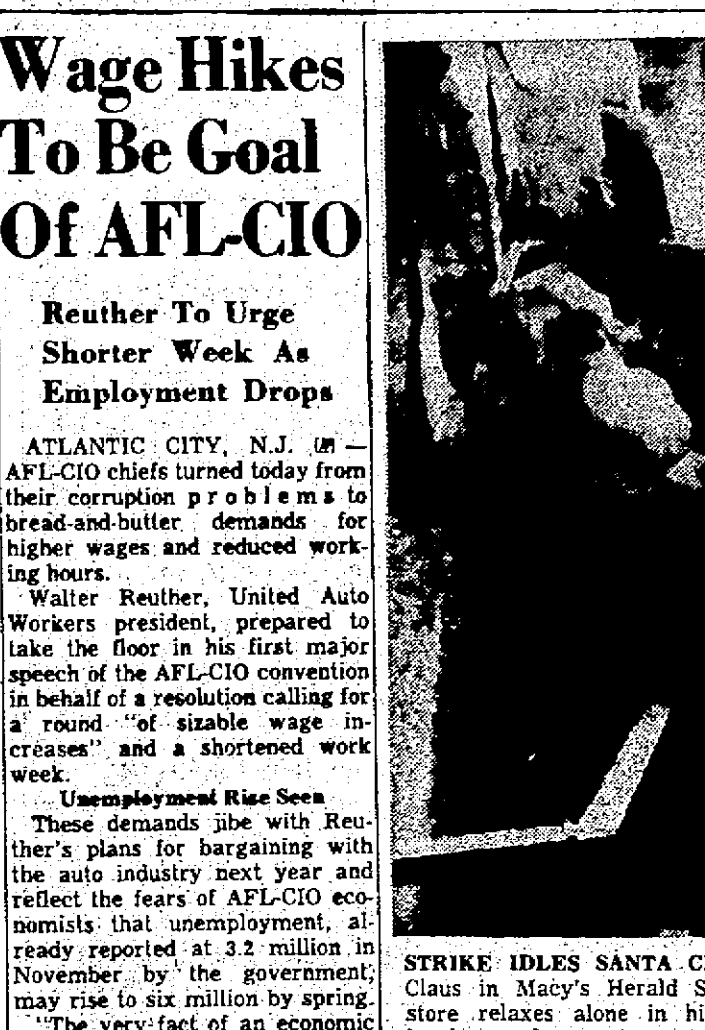

David McDonald, Steelworkers president, pointed out, as did others, that thousands of workers already are working much less than 40 hours a week because of the economic decline. They said America's basic industries are operating at 15 to 20 per cent below capacity.

Convention Slated To End Tomorrow

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U)—The AFL-CIO convention, first to be held since the merger of the two organizations two years ago, has completed a good part of its work and heading toward a Thursday night adjournment unless a snag arises to delay remaining business.

Backstage efforts are under way to work out problems in two unions charged with corruption—the 72,000-member Laundry Workers and the 25,000-member Distillery Workers.

Jury Acquits War Hero In Robbery Case

ABILENE, Tex. (U)—World War II hero Claude R. Eatherly was acquitted yesterday of charges of burglarizing two post offices.

Eatherly, 39, a former Air Force major, said he would return to his home at Van Alstyne, Tex., and "try to go to work if someone will give me a job."

A federal court jury acquitted him of charges that he burglarized post offices at View and Avoca, Tex. He had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Eatherly, who was decorated for his part in the world's first atomic bomb raids at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan, has been a mental patient at Veterans Administration hospitals several times since his discharge in 1947.

Alvin D. Crews, 29, Abilene, Tex., who was tried with him on the same charges, was convicted. Judge Joe Estes sentenced him to three years in prison on both counts in the charge.

Eatherly piloted a B29 reconnaissance plane in the atomic bomb raids on Japan. A psychiatrist testified during the trial that Eatherly had a guilt complex and once said he felt responsible for killing 100,000 persons at Hiroshima.

Psychiatrists also said they felt Eatherly was mentally unbalanced at the time the post offices were burglarized April 30, 1956.

Santa Claus Hit By Strike With Sales Declining

NEW YORK (U)—Santa Claus has been caught in the subway strike.

Store officials reported sales have sagged from 20 to 40 per cent below those of the comparable period last year. They blamed the strike.

Trade associations said business losses are running into the millions.

In the suburbs, however, shopping centers reported booming business, and they credited the strike.

Business gains also were reported in Nassau County and New Jersey.

Four Perish In Pit Blast

FORT SMITH, Ark. (U)—A coal mine explosion which company officials said was caused by an accumulation of gas, killed four men and slightly injured two others early today.

The blast occurred at Peerless Coal Co.'s No. 3 mine in the Excelsior Field between Hackett and Greenwood, about 18 miles south of here.

W. H. Lewis, owner, and C. A. Mellon, a bookkeeper, said the six miners were about a mile from the mouth of the slope mine which Lewis described as "the deepest underground mine in the state."

Negro Arrested For Ax Attack

DOVER, Del. (U)—State police have jailed a migratory worker on a charge of assault with intent to kill in the ax attack on Mrs. Minnie Fenwick, 40, of Dover.

Police said Samuel Holloway, Negro, was arrested yesterday at the Dover bus terminal. He was held in default of bond in the Kent County Correctional Institution.

Mrs. Fenwick, also Negro, was reported in "fairly good" condition in Kent General Hospital.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (U)—An Air Force jet flew an estimated 1,185 m.p.h. over a measured straight-away course, 53 m.p.h. better than Great Britain's world record.

But the flight yesterday did not qualify as a new record because of a failure in photographic timing equipment.

The F101 Voodoo streaked across a 10.1-mile course east and west at 33,100 feet altitude.

Nonmilitary sources said Maj. Adrian E. Drew, 37, Austin, Tex., averaged an estimated 1,185 m.p.h. on the two passes. One run was reportedly over 1,190 m.p.h. But an Air Force information officer said after hours of study of records of the flight: "The flight was disqualified as a record because of lack of photographic proof. One of the photos loused up through a light leak in the camera magazine."

Thus, no official time will be announced on yesterday's runs.

He explained that a camera shooting up from the ground at a point where Maj. Drew completed a pass through the speed trap failed to show the tail of the plane high overhead because of the light leak.

"We'll run it again later this week, probably Thursday," he said.

Anti-Dutch Acts Cause Evacuation

Women, Children First To Depart; Precaution Seen

By OLEN CLEMENTS
SINGAPORE (U)—Eleven American women and children were due in Singapore from Indonesia late today in what one European arrival from Jakarta called the start of a quiet, precautionary evacuation of American families from the chaotic Indonesian republic.

The incoming Americans are families of employees of the Standard Vacuum Oil Co., whose Singapore manager termed the trip a routine holiday.

"We are always flying employees' families in and out of Sumatra," he said.

Quiet Removal Stated

However, the European arrival from Jakarta, who is not Dutch and refused to be quoted by name, said he understood American families would be moved out of Indonesia quietly in the next two months as a precaution.

The Indonesians so far have made no move to extend the property seizure and expulsion to the holdings and citizens of other nations. The anti-Dutch campaign is in retaliation for the Netherlands' refusal to give up Dutch West New Guinea to Indonesia.

The American ambassador in Jakarta, J. M. Allison, has called on Foreign Minister Subandrio twice to express U.S. concern, but the State Department has given no indication that Americans would be ordered to leave.

Officials of the British Overseas Airways Corp. said so far they had received no clearance for daily flights they plan for the rest of the week to pick up 200 Dutch evacuees who have reserved passage.

The Indonesians held up a BOAC plane with 54 aboard yesterday for four hours before finally letting it go. Another 17 evacuees arrived aboard a plane of the Indonesian Garuda line.

Dutch Citizens Transferred

Indonesian consular officials in Singapore completed plans for transfer of 800 of their countrymen, stranded aboard Dutch ships in Singapore, to other vessels bound for Indonesian ports. The Indonesians are on ships of the Dutch KPM line, which the Jakarta government took over. The line ordered the ships to put in at Singapore to keep the Indonesians from taking them over, as they have KPM ships in Indonesian ports.

Indonesian President Sukarno warned his people that they face many hardships as a result of the campaign against the Dutch.

In his first public appearance since the attempt Nov. 30 to assassinate him, Sukarno declared, "We will face a shortage of food and clothing in the future, but we must continue our revolutionary spirit."

"Too many of our diplomats and officials are putting too much hope in the United Nations for solution of the West Irian (New Guinea) issue," the president told a throng officially estimated at 100,000 in Surabaya, East Java.

French Pilots Strafe Rebels

ALGIERS (U)—Strafing French fighter planes killed 4 members of a rebel band and 100 more closed in to wipe out 106 more last night near the Tunisian border, French authorities reported.

The French said the battle was the largest single action in months. No French losses were reported.

Fighters were called in after reconnaissance planes spotted the rebels moving from the Constantine area toward the Tunisian border. Authorities said the strapping, French troops surrounded the remaining rebels and killed the entire band.

Tallulah Sister Reports Robbery Of Her Jewelry

NEW YORK (U)—Eugenia Bankhead, sister of Tallulah, reported to police last night she and a woman friend had $40,500 worth of jewelry stolen from their room at the St. Regis Hotel.

Mrs. Bankhead, who took back her maiden name after divorce, lives at Springfield Farms, Rock Hall, Md. She checked into the hotel yesterday with a friend, Louisa Carpenter.

They told police that they left a valise containing the jewelry at the foot of a bed in their suite and went out to shop shortly after checking in.

Keating Attacks Court's Rulings

UTICA, N. Y. (U)—Rep. Keating (R-NY) said today he thinks the Supreme Court has gone "altogether too far in its zeal to protect the rights of individuals."

In so doing, Keating said, the court "has endangered the safety of the great mass of our people."

Keating, senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, criticized some recent high court decisions. His remarks were prepared for the Utica Kiwanis Club.

40-Hour Week End Urged To Speed Missile Work

DALLAS—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) yesterday urged sacrifice, including junking the 40-hour week and a possible full, wartime mobilization, to gain the lead in the satellite and missile field.

Speaking at Waxahatchie, Tex., Johnson said, "Before this emergency is over, it may be necessary to go on a full, wartime mobilization schedule." Speaking further on Russia's lead in the satellite and missile field, he said, "The 40-hour week should be junked because it 'will not produce the ICBM (intercontinental ballistic missile)'. It will not produce the ICBM."

He did not make clear what he meant by junking the 40-hour week. The senator did not say whether he thinks workers should receive time and a half pay, straight time or no additional pay for working more than 40 hours.

He followed up the luncheon speech at Waxahatchie with this appeal at a dinner here last night: "Let us do what ever it takes to preserve our country and our freedom. It heads must be knocked to about 102 minutes."

Frigid Wave Grips North, Central Area

By The Associated Press

Finger-numbing arctic air gripped the north central states and extended as far south as northern Texas today as the mid-continent shivered under the largest and most severe cold wave of the season.

Temperatures skidded to below zero levels from the eastern Dakotas across most of Minnesota and northern Wisconsin to the northern Great Lakes. Readings in the teens extended southward through Kansas, Missouri and most of Illinois.

The mercury shivered to an early morning low of 15 below zero at International Falls, Minn. Strong northerly winds with gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h. drove the frigid outbreak deeper to the south and intensified its grip on Northern areas. Gusts up to 70 m.p.h. howled across the Plains late yesterday, churning up great clouds of dust in some sections of the Southwest.

Snow flurries were widespread from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley eastward into middle Atlantic sections and northern New England. The snow extended as far south as Memphis, Tenn.

Heavy falls occurred near the southern and eastern shores of the Great Lakes with South Bend, Ind., measuring 4 inches during a six-hour period. A similar accumulation was measured at Pellston, Mich.

Van Horn Defense Case Due To Rest By Counsel

TOWSON, Md. — Three psychiatrists testified yesterday that Robert Jett Van Horn did not know right from wrong when he beat his wife last June 1.

The testimony was given in Baltimore County Circuit Court at the seventh day of the murder trial of the 33-year-old lumber executive.

The defense was expected to rest its case today. Scheduled for more cross-examination by State's Attorney Frank H. Newell III was the 40th defense witness, Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher.

Dr. Guttmacher is medical adviser to the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City and has been a practicing psychiatrist for 28 years. He testified before the three-man court hearing the case without a jury.

"I think there is no doubt this man at the time of the commission of this act was incapable of making the distinction between right and wrong."

The defense contends that Van Horn was insane at the time that his 33-year-old wealthy socialite wife, Bernice, was fatally beaten.

Also testifying was Dr. William G. Cushman of Chevy Chase, Md., chief of psychiatric services at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington.

He said: "Mr. Van Horn, at the time of the alleged offense, was in what is known as a dissociated state, was not aware of his actions, was not within conscious control of himself and was not able to understand the difference between right and wrong."

Another defense medical witness was Dr. William W. Elgin, assistant medical director of the Sheppard and Enoch Pratt Hospital in Baltimore. He testified that Van Horn "at the time of the alleged act did not know the difference between right and wrong, and did not know the nature and consequences of his act."

AFL-CIO leaders are trying to avoid expulsion of the unions if they feel keeping them in the "House of Labor" be justified.

A dissident "integrity" faction in the 144,000-member Bakery Workers is holding meetings preparatory to asking the AFL-CIO for a charter if the main body of the union is expelled.

Meany has said the main body, controlled by President James G. Cross of Washington, D. C., will be expelled tomorrow and a charter granted the dissident group unless Cross shows a willingness meantime to make concessions to demands for a clean-up of alleged corruption.

The 44,000-member United Textile Workers has satisfied AFL-CIO leaders that it intends to yield to a clean-up program. Plans are to lift a suspension of the union ordered by the AFL-CIO Executive Council, and to restore it to good standing.

This will be a cylinder about three feet long, rounded at the forward end like the nose of a bullet.

The metal casing of the last rocket stage will remain after the propellant has burned out, while the vehicle is traveling at about 18,000 miles an hour. It will contain automatic radio reporting instruments for sending information back to earth.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Spinster, seeking more social contacts, tries bowling; is upset by low scores.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am an unmarried woman in my early forties. I am well educated, dress fairly well and am considered not unattractive. So much for background. Now for the problem.

I want to make more social contacts and get into the swing of things; and see if I can lead a more fruitful life. I would like very much to have a home and a husband that I could be proud of. As a move in this direction I joined a bowling club.

The first evening I played, I was teamed against the only man in the game. I did passably well and enjoyed it very much. The second evening, I again played opposite a man — again the only man in the game. He seemed very nice but we had no conversation; he may be married or engaged, I don't know.

Low Score Shamed Her

This is what happened: He got strike after strike, giving him top score. I could get nothing; my score was so low that I was ashamed. There were exclamations during the play: "You were robbed. . . Tough luck. . ." and so on.

Nothing serious in itself, I know. I didn't mind so much the low score; but it illustrates my life so perfectly. I work very hard at anything I go into; but someone else always gets the cake. Do you think I am being silly? Or is there any way I can help myself?

Perhaps you can imagine how it must be to play any game and always be the loser. I will be watching for your answer.—P. Z.

Hag-ridden By Insecurity

DEAR P. Z.: Perhaps a first step towards a better life is to get rid of the notion that you have to win at games, or be a sensation in a situation, in order to be attractive and good company. Actually it isn't so important to win at games as it is to enjoy the activity for its own sake; and to contribute to making the game enjoyable to others.

This you do by zest, skill, unself-consciousness and unselfishness. Also by what's known as team spirit and a spirit of fun.

Variety's The Spice Of Life

How overcome this, and arrive at comfortable poise? Well, the classic insurance against caring too much in a given situation — thus registering steady desperation that drives folks off — is to have other resources to draw upon. Other situations that offer possibilities: Other avenues to fulfillment that you are exploring.

In that sense variety is the spice of life; it helps you to be lighter, gayer, less emphatic, in trying for success. And "easy does it" in making a hit in social enterprises.

A second step towards a more fruitful experience is to acquire a contributive feeling towards life. Don't dwell on the sensation of needing, wanting and seeking more life for yourself. Fulfillment for a woman is ministering to the needs of others — being vitally useful in personal ways. So, what opportunities does your environment offer on that score?

If you are a wage-earner, budget your leisure to include some civic helpfulness on a volunteer basis. You might help with the blood bank or do night driving for the Red Cross. Or serve as a hospital nurse's aide. Or give one afternoon a week to an orphanage — taking children for outings; or leading their games; or reading to them.

Like A Rusty Disused Fountain

Tops on any list of rewarding activities is religious fellowship — joining a church, belonging to the congregation and really entering into its seasonal programs of lectures, educational projects, fund raising ventures, women's prayer meetings and such.

A frustrated, discouraged, self-pitying woman is like a rusty disused fountain. To make the potentials of her personality come alive, she must become a conduit of the currents of life. She's got to give out. And in proportion as she gives, she will receive. This is law of life, known as "the law of compensation."—M. H.

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

Our Friend John

THIS TIME LAST year the historic alliance between the United States and Great Britain was in the worst shape in decades. It seemed impossible that the breach over Suez could be closed for years. But as the important NATO parley in Paris approaches, the old ties have been substantially restored. Britain very likely has not forgotten past differences. Yet it has nevertheless put them aside in the interest of the larger cause of saving human freedom.

MUCH OF THE free world took fright when Russia launched its earth satellites. The United States, berated for boastful attitudes when it was ahead, was hammered with even greater vehemence for falling behind. Britain, however, stood by us staunchly. To emphasize her steadfast support in our adversity, Prime Minister Macmillan came to Washington to meet with President Eisenhower. Out of their talks grew the plan for the high-level NATO talks at Paris. American and Britain were able to get together, too, on an arms aid plan for Tunisia. Although that angered France, it further warmed Anglo-U. S. relations.

NOW, AS THIS country speaks of placing intermediate range ballistic missiles on foreign bases, only Britain has thus far indicated willingness to allow this defense measure. It will do so, of course, at heavy risk. These and other manifestations of British backing have led key Americans to look with new favor on a nation they had begun to downgrade sharply after the Suez fiasco of 1956. In the tense days since Sputniks I and II sailed aloft, we have had no firmer friend on this globe than Britain. That the fabled alliance has been given new health is excellent news for all free men who would resist the endless encroachments of dictatorial Russian communism.

Hope And Leadership

HOW DEPENDENT the West is upon a few leaders who serve as symbols of solidarity has been sharply dramatized, first by the illness of President Eisenhower and then by German Chancellor Adenauer's attack of influenza. Historians never can quite agree, and perhaps never shall, on the extent to which men or the forces that act upon them govern the course of history. But none questions that the patterns of living are altered in important particulars as leaders are changed. In this age of trouble, men's hopes for a better tomorrow tend to cluster around the human symbols of that promise. Thus, too, they personalize their difficulties by looking for scapegoats. When their human symbols serve them well, men do not like to part with them. There is always the fear that he who comes after may not fill the role. The known, with all its flaws, is accepted with far greater confidence than the unknown. That is why millions in the free world pray for the restoration to full health of Mr. Eisenhower and Chancellor Adenauer, two of their greatest symbols of hope for the maintenance of freedom, the preservation of peace and the attainment of justice on this earth.

Propaganda

ONE OF THE MOST serious political consequences of Sputnik is that all over the world there has been a weakening of faith in democracy and freedom as opposed to totalitarianism and discipline. American propaganda is partly responsible for this development because it replied to Russian claims about the Soviet system of slavery by opposing to it the American system as a whole. It stressed that because of the American economy and "the people's capitalism," America could do things better than Russia. A concern with publicity rather than facts appears to have led to this mistake. Freedom is superior to material achievements, but the stress on the latter has helped to produce doubts of America. When Khrushchev is so vulnerable to bombardment of truth, why should there be self-serving and fancy Dan propaganda? On the world scene, Madison Avenue techniques and gimmicks do not work as well as propaganda. It seems difficult to drive this lesson home, but until it is learned, this country is likely to take propaganda licks from Moscow.

U. S. Now Faces Test Of Free People

WASHINGTON—For something no bigger than a soft ball, the earth satellite that burned itself out has become a symbol for much disillusionment after our spree of complacency.

No one would think that the balance of power in the world, at least psychologically, would have been so upset in so short a time in the month when Russia projected two successive balls into space and we punctured the period with a failure, as if throwing a vast interrogation mark across the skies.

Our complacency took longer in the making but, if we have cast it off, then it could be the beginning of wisdom.

IN THE MIDST of history, it is always risky to try to put a beginning to the period of retreat from hard realities. It could be when, after a fearful, bloody war in a faraway corner called Korea, and so soon after a global war, we became war-weary and wanted relief and succor for awhile. We wanted to have a deliverer for our troubles.

If one may try to find a root of our trouble, we might suggest that it was when we, as a people, were willing to make a crime of Korea for the sake of a political issue in the 1952 campaign, that is, to forget its real meaning in the stand against aggression.

IN SHORT, we are willing to forget this was part of our national heritage. To President Truman, the decision for us to stand in Korea and join with the United Nations is still today, as at the time, one of the shining pages of our history, and the history of our age.

When Russia ignited Communist North Korea, her satellite (in a different sense then), to attack South Korea, a ward of the United Nations, President Truman saw that we could do nothing but call a halt to this unprovoked aggression. Otherwise, the Communist menace would have overrun that area of the world and sought to penetrate elsewhere along the perimeter of the Communist world.

BUT WE GREW weary of war. Our people wanted a deliverer from our troubles. At hand, as a comforter and as a healer and a unifying force among our people, there was a warm and genial personality who was at the same time a soldier, a war hero. He was induced to head a political party 20 years out of power. He became the image of peace and plenty and rest.

Shrewd party leaders, who were interested in getting a winner, hung "Korea" as a badge of shame to flaunt in the faces of the Democrats. It did become the leading issue. It was simple. Victory seemed certain, but just to make sure, General Eisenhower pledged at the eleventh hour in the campaign, if elected, that he would go to Korea in person.

He made the trip and in time there was eventually peace after long negotiations. Victory was easy, the first time, and even easier the second time.

HE CREATED a businessman's government, over which he presided with a relaxed rein. He thought of his cabinet as the board of directors.

Business did indeed take over. Government was tailored for business, and with no nonsense. Those who gathered about his government knew exactly what they wanted. They still do.

Made the servants of business were the Federal regulatory agencies, which had been set up to protect the public. Through-out was the counting house mind. It was busy in seeking to hand over valuable natural resources, including our water resources.

The aim was exploitation, that is, where they were able to utilize sites out of which they could profit. Tax laws were revamped to provide special privileges for business, including shocking tax easements, under the guise of defense industries in many cases.

IN ALL OF this Congress also had its share. There was a complete lack of imagination, in the Administration as well as in Congress, to meet the growing needs of an expanding economy. We needed schools, houses, to clear slums. It was done with a niggardly hand, when done at all.

What we needed was dynamic democracy at work in all of these areas. It is all a part of the same grand design, which we find in the field of scientific progress, where we have been lagging, and whether that is, for example, in rockets and earth satellites for military and peaceful purposes, or in development of atomic energy for power for peaceful purposes or to protect our national security. In the atomic area we are behind, too.

Which brings us back to the three balls, two that got off into space, and the smaller one that fizzed out.

We are in a supreme test in what free people can do.

A-Secrecy Is Changed By Rush Of Events

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Eisenhower's new proposals to exchange atomic and hydrogen bomb information with North Atlantic Treaty allies and other friendly countries is the result of a gradual shift in policy that's been on since 1945.

At that time the U. S. had a monopoly on how to make atomic bombs. The aim was to keep this a tight secret.

The original 1946 McMahon Atomic Energy Act put a flat ban against exchange of this information with other countries. The penalty for violation was $20,000 fine and 20 years in prison.

But in 1949 Russia exploded its first A-bomb. And in August, 1953—only 10 months behind the U. S.—Russia exploded its first hydrogen bomb. Since that showed the Russians already knew as much as American scientists, and more than its allies, it changed the security requirements.

Consequently, when the McMahon act was revised in 1954, the control-of-information section was considerably amended.

GIVING OUT information on the design and composition of weapons was still broadly restricted. But provision was made to give allied countries information on the size, weight and shape of atomic weapons.

This was to permit them to build or to possess weapons using atomic warheads and to plan for their own national defense. The transfer of the actual weapons themselves and of fissionable materials going into weapons was still restricted.

For peaceful uses of atomic energy, however, the President and the Atomic Energy Commission were authorized to exchange information with friendly countries on refining and production of nuclear materials, reactor development, research, health and safety and industrial development.

Following this authorization there was a great development in nuclear weapons. The first bombs were big and heavy. New bombs became lighter and smaller and easier to deliver.

Three years ago the development of "clean" atomic weapons began. They were designed for use over territory that American and friendly troops could occupy without danger of radiation.

THEY WERE also designed for use against enemy planes and missiles flying over American or friendly territory. The clean weapons reduce the radiation hazard for civilian population. Fallout is locally confined and not broadcast world-wide.

All of these developments have made it desirable to give more atomic weapons information to friendly countries for their own protection and for America's first line of defense.

Recent Russian development of guided missiles has made greater exchange of information almost essential.

What is proposed is not a sweeping giveaway of all of America's know-how in atomic weapons, nor of the weapons themselves. The United States proposes to keep control over all nuclear materials, whether used in bombs or power reactors.

The atomic energy act amendment which it is now understood President Eisenhower will present to the new Congress will be a fairly simple thing, not a detailed spell-out.

It will first require that the President make a finding that it is in the interests of the United States and the defense of its allies that certain information on atomic weapons be given to one or more specified countries.

REQUIREMENT would still stand that the President satisfy himself this information will be given full security by the receiving country and will not be leaked to an enemy country.

What is envisaged is merely an increase in the degree of cooperation between the U.S. and its

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—There is a certain warm, neighborly feeling when editors from another city walk into a man's office and just sit down in the nearest chair and start talking.

They don't want anything from you and you don't want anything from them. They have come from Lubbock, Texas, from Alabama, from Vermont and a lot of other places, and we'd pass maybe an hour and then each would go about his New York business. I hope we both were better off for the visit. I always felt I was.

THE FIRST visitor, from North Carolina, was John McConnell. He is from any one of the three places in the hills, all near Asheville: Bakersville, Spruce Pine or Toe Valley, the latter taking in Bakersville. He's lean and has a throw of graying hair to one side and his blue eyes might as well have pink handles on them. They dig in deep when he wants them to.

John dropped in because, when Russia tossed its first satellite into the sky, back there in October, he had an idea. He thought that one of ours would be along soon and his idea was that if it could, without costing too much, he'd like to see it shine for all the world to see all the time. He wrote an editorial called "Make Our Satellite a Symbol of Hope."

Now, John's paper is the Toe Valley View and it comes out once a week in maybe 12, maybe 16, pages, and it doesn't pretend to persuade the world. But in no time, John was being asked to pack his valise and come to Washington and to New York and tell people what he meant.

ORIGINALY, John had a sort of Christmas message idea, it being in his mind not to make the shining satellite a symbol of Christianity alone but a star of peace for all people of whatever sect, the world over, and Christmas is, even among non-Christians, recognized as a time of good will among men and it seemed to him appropriate. In any case, that is a date doesn't matter.

A Star of Hope is a Star of Hope, anywhere, at any date, and all men, regardless of creed, have hope in their hearts.

In Washington he talked to White House officials, military officials, scientists and rocket experts.

They agreed that a brightly shining satellite could be got up for a little upwards of a million dollars and since some were going up, anyway, this one might as well ride along among the first. There was no real scientific barrier and there was no real official barrier. But things don't happen in a night, as we all know.

DR. FRED Singer, who designed "Mouse," the first planned satellite, said that a shining one, visible to all mankind and it whirled around the planet and inspired them to hope for peace, would cost by itself maybe $4,000. The rocket would be about one million dollars—most of them cost that much.

Peter Hill put together an organization, which is NOT seeking money, to keep the idea bubbling in Washington and several scientists and politicians are going along with it. The organization, which I repeat is NOT seeking funds, is the Star of Hope and Good Will Crusade. They'll let you know about that later on their own terms.

HERE IN New York my good and attractive friend, Arlene Francis, put John on her morning show on WRCA-TV, and he made a fine coast-to-coast impression. People took to his idea with one exception. The one exception was a fairly spectacular winner on a noted quiz show and this young man thought it was a terrible idea. John has asked that he not be identified, so we won't.

"I think our space program," John said, as he got ready to go back to North Carolina, "should go beyond a mere scientific race. I think the United States should inaugurate its space program in a spiritual and moral way. We and others are opening the first doors to man's mastery of the solar system. It is an awesome event. I think it should be treated with an ethical and decent concept."

Nice, Kind, Gentle Goons

WASHINGTON—Evidence before the Senators indicates that when the Teamsters issue a cordial invitation for anyone to join their union, they use a shotgun, or a stick of dynamite.

Sometimes, to vary the procedure, they send over a goon to give him a beating.

This, so far, has worked better than an engraved card. Truck drivers have flocked into the organization, or else.

Now the Tennessee Teamsters are in deep trouble with the Senate investigating committee of Senator John L. McClellan. Odds are that they won't be quite so enthusiastic about inducing new members; their initiation ceremonies surely won't be so vicious.

IN THE LAST four years, according to the Senators, there have been 174 cases of violence, of which eight have been listed by authorities as solved. So I watched one young truck driver in the caucus room confront another young man accused of sneaking up on him, knocking him down and kicking him in the head. I heard another non-union driver tell how his automobile was dynamited in his own back yard. This caused such a blast it knocked his wife out of bed.

And that brings us to an embarrased cop, name of John T. Reynolds, of the Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Investigation, with headquarters at Knoxville.

THE MIDDLE-aged Hawkshaw nervously brushed his hand over his peddled onion haircut and said, yes, he had been assigned to investigate the shooting up of two non-union trucks on the road outside Knoxville on the night of June 12, 1955.

He said he'd learned that one William A. (Hard Hearing) Smith, a union organizer from Nashville, had registered in a Knoxville hotel that same night under an assumed name and rushed out shortly before the double shooting fray in a red and white Buick automobile.

About an hour after this escapade, Hard Hearing Smith turned up at a nearby hospital with a bullet hole in his arm. Officer Reynolds searched Hard Hearing's hotel room and found some shotgun shells in his valise.

Then he went to the hospital to interview the wounded one.

"I TALKED to him and he said principal allies in nuclear warfare. For instance:

Britain now makes and tests its own nuclear weapons. But the United States is restricted from giving the British information on clean bombs. This is considered information the British should have for their own defenses.

The United States cannot give France and Germany information on how to make even the now-obsolete Hiroshima-type of heavy atomic bomb.

In other words, the United States cannot give its allies atomic weapons information the Russians already know about.

What the administration wants is to ease these severe restrictions.

Reporter's Notebook

ANDROS TOWN, Bahamas—For years I've been saying that fishing isn't much of a sport because it's too easy.

Now, at the risk of enraging the nation's 20 million anglers, I think I've proved my point.

Sportsmen travel from all points of the compass to try their luck here at catching bonefish, one of the world's fighting game fish.

"Let's see what we can do," suggested my wartime buddy and vacation companion, Don Whitehead, author of "The FBI Story." We climbed into the small skiff and Rudy, our native guide, bumpety-bumped us over 15 miles of azure sea to a favored creek further down this largest of the Bahamas Islands.

After hanging a chunk of crab on the hook, I remarked:

"I feel like a criminal. What chance have they got?"

"Fish or cut bait," remarked Whitehead.

RELUCTANTLY, I made my first cast. Believe it or not—a zing!—there was a silvery surge in the water, and the reel groaned as a big bonefish hit the bait and raced with it 75 yards.

Five battling minutes later I reeled him in. My hands ached.

"Like I said," I told Whitehead, "the fish hasn't got a chance."

"Try again," he suggested. His mouth fell open as I made another cast—and immediately got another strike. Then he got a strike himself. For the next hour we reeled them in steadily.

"I got a blister on my thumb," I said.

"Let's quit."

"Quit now! Are you crazy?" said Whitehead. "We may never get fishing again like this the rest of our life."

After another hour of continuous and successful struggle, I was weary of pulling in the bonefish, each of which put up a desperate scrap. My hands were red and nearly raw.

"This is too easy—it bothers my conscience," I told Whitehead. "I'm going to take a siesta."

He watched in disbelief as I stretched out in the prow, put my head on a pillow, and fell asleep. He kept on fishing—but with less luck—until I woke up and suggested we go home.

WE HEADED HOME—bumpety-bump over the waves. At the pier we counted our fish and found we had 25—not counting four we'd tossed back—a record catch from a single skiff here in one day. "Let's go out again tomorrow," said Whitehead.

"Not me," I replied. "I feel ashamed. It's all been so unfair. I feel sorry for the poor fish."

Now I know millions of anglers who would bet me a hundred dollars I couldn't go out and duplicate my feat the next day. But remember the duffer who stepped up to his first tie, belted a hole-in-one and threw away his clubs, saying, "this game is too easy?"

Well, nobody could ever prove he was wrong—so long as he didn't step up to the second tee.

Fishing is just too simple. I'm going back to croquet. That's a game of real skill.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—Each government agency must have its own private imp of the perverse to decide when to give out, and when to withhold, information to the public. These impish dictators obviously have a joint policy of decreeing silence when there is something to say, and garrulity when there isn't.

After months of keeping the American people in ignorance about the progress of our satellite program, Project Vanguard's imp waited until there was nothing but a big foul-up to report and then became volatile.

This imp and his assistant hellions kept issuing statements about having to take the bugs out of our satellite. If they wanted to duplicate the Russian effort in minuscule, why didn't they send the bugs up in it?

THIS PENCHANT for perversity produces situations that are unbelievably ludicrous. I have just had a long session with the House Government Information Subcommittee, chaired by Rep. John E. Moss, of California, and given a run-down on a whole series of "secret" and "top secret" asinities.

One that should really go down in the hazy books involves Rep. Daniel J. Flood, the wax-mustachioed Democrat from Wilkes-Barre, Pa. as chairman of a House defense appropriations subcommittee, Dan! wrote the Air Force to ask why a fleet of cargo planes were converted into plush transports for generals and admirals.

The Air Force sent Rep. Flood a photo of the beautiful reclining seats in the revamped cargo ships, but stamped the photo secret. It also returned him a copy of his own letter—stamped secret too.

After pulling himself together, Rep. Flood declared with reckless defiance:

"I'm going to take the bull by the horns, and declassify my own letter."

The Defense Department stopped the Department of Commerce from publishing the amount of peanut butter purchased by the armed services on the ground that enemy spies could deduce from the consumption of peanut butter how many men we have in uniform. If I were in the Army they could never tell from that.

The Moss Committee finally ridiculed the Air Force out of classifying its transcribed weather report at Bolling Field. Anyone who took the trouble to dial a number could hear the report, but at the end of each transcription the mechanical voice recited:

"This is for military use only and dissemination to the public is not authorized."

THE JUSTICE Department classified "secret" its explanation of why it permitted border-patrol officers of the Immigration Service to go to pistol matches at public expense. But this horrifying leak of the explanation occurred.

The Justice Department thought it would make the border guardians better marksmen. The Air Force ordered a tightening up of secrecy on missiles, then followed with a second order that the secrecy order itself be kept secret. No one in the flying service has yet figured out how to disseminate a secret order to keep secret.

Unless the imp of the perverse in charge of Vanguard information is forced back into the bottle he'll probably wait until our satellite is going good, then clam up about it.

Welfare Board Building Improvements Requested

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received proposals for improvements to the Allegany County Welfare Board building on Cumberland Street.

Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the department, said she would like to install partitions to divide several large rooms into conference rooms and to install new lights. She said the funds could be obtained from the county or from the state.

The commissioners asked her to get some estimates and return to a later meeting.

Kenneth T. Northcraft, RD 5, Triple Lakes, wrote the county board asking that shale or gravel be placed on the road in front of his house. He said that when it rains there are mud holes in front of his house.

The matter was referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman.

Love's Old Song Is Mating Call

NORMAN, Okla. — Dr. Arthur N. Bragg, zoologist at the University of Oklahoma, wondered just how old a toad is when he starts courting.

To find out, we spent many nights huddled at the side of ponds in the country. He found that when the male toad can give out with his mating song, he was old enough to court.

Ethics Unit Advocated For State Demos

BALTIMORE (AP) — A prominent Democratic legislator has urged his party to name a Board of Political Ethics which would set up standards for political morality and ask Democratic candidates to abide by them.

State Sen. Philip H. Goodman (D-Balta 5th), in a letter to State Chairman T. Barton Harrington, made the proposal as one way which might prevent another bitter primary. The party has suffered major defeats in the general elections largely because of the irreparable damage resulting from the primaries, he said.

He suggested the State Democratic Committee name an ethics committee of three to six members. This group, Goodman said, could "air complaints concerning immoral, reckless or irresponsible tactics by candidates and condemn and possibly prevent the use of same."

Cities' Top Problem

ANN ARBOR — (INS) — A University of Michigan planning expert says the severest problem facing metropolitan planners is the automobile. Richard L. Meier, U. of M. research associate in Planning, said the situation will become progressively worse considering the current rate of population increase.

69 Per Cent Levy Collected In Five Months

The City of Cumberland collected 69 per cent of its total levy and 87 1/2 per cent of the tax levy during the first five months of this fiscal year.

Total collections toward the $2,005,860 levy for operating expenses and debt service totaled $1,385,718.81, leaving $620,141.19 to be collected by next June 30.

The city had collected a total of $1,054,539 on its $1,207,630 tax levy, leaving $153,091 to be collected, according to a report on the Condition of the Levy issued yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The reports are prepared monthly by the city auditor to allow department heads to check on the condition of all city income and expenditures.

For the first time, the report reflected charges made for sewage treatment services. Charges to individuals are based on 75 per cent of water bills.

A total of $13,398.15 was collected during November for the services.

The city levied $247,500 during the fiscal year for estimated operating costs of $148,000 at the plant, plus $99,500 to repay principal and interest on the $2,000,000 plant.

Other sources of income appeared to be coming in about on schedule.

As the fifth month ended, $613,815.30 had been spent for city operations and this represented 37 per cent of the $1,663,326.75 set aside for providing city services.

Par for the fifth month is 41 1/2 per cent.

Actually, departments had spent about 41 per cent of their budgets, since total expenditures are a few points below par, chiefly because only $9,117.35 had been spent for the sewage plant operations and a $37,000 item for relocation of several sewers in connection with the Thruway had not been tapped.

Warden Caught Up

DEER LODGE, Mont. — (INS) — The deputy of the Montana State Prison had no sooner assured a civilian group that convicts never go outside the walls when someone pointed out a window — at a truckload of prisoners outside the walls.

The invention of the wheel was in about 3,000 B.C.

Property Board Awards $2,827 For Land

The Allegany County Board of Property Review has awarded Ruland T. Gibson and Myrtle E. Gibson, his wife, a total of $2,827.50 for four-tenths of an acre of land on the west slope of Polish Mountain.

The land is needed for the State Roads Commission's slope and drainage easements along U. S. Route 40. The SRC had deposited $2,210 for the land.

This was the 13th award made by the Board of Property Review since its organization early this year. In May there were 11 awards but six of them were appealed to Circuit Court. Four appeals were taken by the property owners and two by the State Roads Commission.

Since May, there have been only two awards by the county board. One was made in October and the Gibson award this month.

Some 115 cases have been filed in the SRC land acquisition

Summer Job As Teller Ends With Theft Charge

An 18-year-old Garrett County youth, who took a summer job as a teller in a Pittsburgh bank, was arraigned here before U.S. Commissioner James A. Avirett on a charge of embezzling $2,000 from his former employer.

The accused youth, William E. Goehring, was taken into custody yesterday at his home in Garrett County by FBI agents.

He waived a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Avirett and was released under $1,000 bond for his appearance before the Federal District Court of the Western District at Pittsburgh.

James E. Kelly, agent in charge of the FBI at Baltimore, said young Goehring, a June graduate of Northern High School at Accident, had taken a job as a teller in the Dollar Savings Bank in Pittsburgh last summer.

A shortage in a customer's account was discovered in October, Goehring was picked up on a federal warrant charging him with embezzlement by an unauthorized withdrawal from the customer's account. The embezzlement reportedly took place on September 13 of this year.

Commissioner Avirett said Goehring has given a full statement to the FBI of the theft and has agreed to return to Pittsburgh to stand trial, probably in January.

His bond stipulates he is to appear at the Pittsburgh federal court and no extradition waiver was required.

Church Sets Advent Rites

Advent services Friday and Saturday at Holy Cross Episcopal Church, 16 Virginia Avenue, will be conducted by Rev. Edward Leith Merrow, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Alexandria, Va.

Rev. William J. Cox, vicar of the local church, said the Litany will be sung at 7:30 p.m. Friday with Rev. Merrow preaching the sermon. Hymn singing and prayers will follow.

On Saturday, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 a.m. Breakfast will be served in the Parish Hall by the Women's Guild and there will be four periods of meditation during the morning and afternoon.

Before beginning his ministry in Alexandria, Rev. Merrow played professional football, served as an Army officer and sang with the Metropolitan Opera Company. He also taught at the Virginia Theological Seminary. He is widely known as a leader of church retreats.

SRC To Open Bids Jan. 14 For Thruway

1.83 Mile Section Advertised As First Phase Of Project

The Maryland State Roads Commission will accept bids on January 14 on the first phase of the $12,000,000 Cumberland Thruway project.

G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, said the bids on the first section of the Industrial Highway section of the Thruway will be opened at noon in the SRC offices in Baltimore.

The SRC yesterday advertised for bids on the project which includes 1.83 miles of modern highway, which will serve as the Route 51 connection to the cross-town expressway section.

Chaires said the contract will begin at Crawford Street here and extend to just east of the new Everts Creek Bridge.

The bridge, the first pre-stressed concrete span to be built in Allegany County, is virtually completed.

Chaires said the work was held up for some time for lack of expansion plates which have arrived and are being installed.

Plans call for opening the bridge to traffic early next week, weather permitting, after a bituminous wearing surface is placed on the deck of the span.

The opening of the span will allow the B & O Railroad to complete fills in that area needed for its big yard expansion program.

The dual-lane highway will proceed by a new route from the Everts Creek Bridge to Vancouver Street.

From there, it will proceed by way of Montreal Avenue and Fifth Street and by way of Laing Avenue.

The Mayor and Council paved the way for advertising the project Monday when it passed a resolution which will prohibit parking on the left side of the dual lanes of the highway.

WANTS MARRIAGE — Mrs. Betty Phillips, 25, Loveland, Colo., divorcee, above, wants to marry Lee R. Leick, 24, who was convicted of slaying his wife in Denver four years ago and is in the death house at the Colorado prison, according to the Denver Post. (AP Photofox)

Home Nursing Care - No. 3

In Taking Pulse, Don't Err By Counting Seconds

EDITOR'S NOTE: Home nursing know-how is essential this winter for every family. Already one wave of influenza has struck; another possibly worse one lies ahead. With hospitals and doctors overtaxed, health authorities urge you to do what you can to care for yourself. NEA Writer Aileen Snoddy had the assistance of New York State Health Department officials in preparing this series of simple, basic home nursing instructions. This is the third of five articles.

By AILEEN SNODDY
NEA Staff Correspondent

Caring for a person who is ill is a challenge of developing skills. You also know you are making a person more comfortable by your amateur, but efficient, efforts.

Taking pulse and respiration require time and practice to be accurate. And you may find yourself counting seconds on the clock instead of the patient's heart beat if you aren't careful. And what is this pulse you count? With each heart beat, blood is pumped through blood vessels that go to all parts of the body. Like thick rubber tubing, these blood vessels stretch and shrink.

When the heart pumps, the walls of the tubing stretch out and let the blood through. Between beats, when the heart is not pumping, they shrink back the way they were before.

And at certain points on the body, this stretching and shrinking back into place can be felt under your fingers.

The easiest place to feel a pulse is at the wrist. You will need a clock with a second hand and paper and pencil to record the findings. When taking a pulse, you must report: (1) rate—the number of pulse beats there are each minute, and (2) rhythm—the regularity of the pulse beats.

By regularity, we mean whether the length of time between each beat is the same, like the ticking of a clock or the dripping of a water faucet. Or is the beat irregular like the sound of a person's heels as he runs a few steps, then stands still, then walks or runs again?

The patient should be comfortable, relaxed, sitting or lying down when you take his pulse. And he should not be smoking.

To locate the pulse, place your first two fingers along the edge of the patient's thumb. Slide your fingers down straight until your fingers fall in a little "valley" on the inside of the wrist. Press lightly here until you can feel the beating. Never use your thumb to take a pulse because you have a pulse in your thumb and you may confuse your pulse with that of the patient.

Count a pulse for one minute using a second hand. It saves confusion to begin counting when the second hand is at 12 or 6.

You may count seconds instead of pulse if you watch the clock constantly. So look away occasionally. Note whether the pulse is regular or irregular and record immediately.

You may count a person's respiration by watching the patient's chest rise or fall as he breathes in and out, or feel it rise with a hand on his chest. One respiration includes breathing in and out once.

The trick here is to count without the patient knowing it. It may be the "ham" coming out, but most persons can't breathe naturally when they know they are watched.

While counting respiration also notice whether the person breathes easily or works hard to get his breath. This is called "labored" respiration. If his breathing is noisy or irregular, record this, too.

As when taking the pulse, the patient should be relaxed, either lying down or sitting. And to take respiration secretly, pretend you are taking his pulse. Use a clock with a second hand as with pulse taking and count for one minute. During this time, you will note whether the breathing is fast, slow, irregular, noisy or labored.

1958 Program To Be Chosen

The 1958 agricultural conservation program will be formed at a meeting of the Allegany County Agricultural Resources Conservation Committee Thursday, December 19, at 1 p. m. in the library annex building, Washington Street.

Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, manager of the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee office, said that 13 men are on the resources committee.

They usually recommend about 20 practices selected from the state ASC handbook.

Members of the committee are James H. Weimer, Joseph W. Silber and Brady H. Dolly, all members of the ASC; Martin M. Gordon, conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service; County Agent Joseph M. Steger; District Forester William H. Johnson, B. Beeson Snyder, area supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration; Vernon Loar, president of the County Farm Bureau, and D. T. Puffinberger, Ernest S. Harvey and Wilbert R. Paul, all members of the Board of Supervisors of the County Soil Conservation District.

An electric current, passed through salt water produces chlorine. Plastics, anti-knock agents, explosives and refrigerants are some of the end products of this building-block chemical.

The commandant's house at the Marine Barracks, considered to date from Mar. 3, 1801, is the oldest government building in Washington, D. C., still used for its original purpose.

Poisonous sumacs can be recognized because the berries always hang in drooping clusters. The red berries of the harmless sumacs are in dense, erect clusters.

Nickname for Dartmouth College's athletic teams is "Indians," derived from the fact that the school was chartered in 1769 as a charity school for the Indians.

Wind, Cold In Spotlight For District

Mercury Expected To Drop To Five Degrees During Night

The weather was again one of the foremost topics of today, as howling winds, falling thermometers and some snow arrived in this section.

Garrett County received two and one-half inches of snow, and snow flurries with accumulations up to several inches in the higher elevations are forecast tonight.

The Weather Bureau prediction for Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties calls for cloudy, windy and colder with snow flurries tonight.

A low of five to ten degrees above zero in the higher elevations. Eight to 15 degrees in lower areas was forecast for tomorrow morning.

Tomorrow is to be partly cloudy, windy with scattered snow flurries.

All roads were covered in Garrett County and State Roads Commission officials advised the use of chains on vehicles traveling in that section.

Temperature Drops
About a half inch of snow fell in Frostburg and the Georges Creek and Mt. Savage areas to make roads slick in spots this morning.

But crews quickly cindered these.

The temperature stood at 15 degrees this morning at both Accident and Oakland. In Frostburg it got down to 17 degrees.

In Garrett County the mercury dropped from 30 degrees at 2 a. m. to 15 degrees in seven hours, the SRC district office reported.

In downtown Cumberland the temperature dropped from 50 degrees yesterday afternoon to 2 degrees this morning.

Snow To East
The Cumberland area escaped the snow but Frederick County had up to an inch by 9 a. m. Washington County reported a half inch as the snow continued to come down.

Police reported weather cloudy and roads dry in the Eastern and Salisbury areas on the Eastern Shore.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures would fall steadily to below freezing this afternoon and there would be snow "over all the eastern half of Maryland."

In a special bulletin at 10 a. m. the bureau said:

"The snow is expected to continue falling until sometime this evening. The first estimate of depth is around three inches. However, as this situation is in the development stage, these estimates of depth and ending time will be revised later as dictated by the conditions. Road conditions will become slippery during the afternoon."

Sleet In Washington
Snow accumulated on sleet-glazed Washington area roads and caused a flurry of accidents.

School buses were involved in two collisions on icy roads in upper Montgomery County, but there were no injuries. The drivers were alone in the buses.

Road conditions became hazardous after sleet fell about day break, froze and then was covered with snow.

The snow-fall, quite heavy at times in the downtown area about mid-morning, was melting as it hit.

Fairfax County, Va., closed its school.

West Virginia Hit
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A wintry blast from the northwest swept across West Virginia last night. Rain turned to ice, glazing highways and streets, and snow measuring up to two inches followed.

Colder weather was forecast. The Weather Bureau said temperatures during the next five days would average 8 to 10 degrees below normal with snow or snow flurries recurring throughout the period.

Low of 5 to 10 above zero are expected tonight.

Bureau Of Census Plans Local Survey

County Collector Mails Second Bill To Taxpayers

J. Wallace Close, county tax collector, announced today that plans are being made to send out duplicate bills to taxpayers who are delinquent on January 1.

Those persons who have not paid their 1957 county tax bills will be assessed a 50-cent service charge for the duplicate bills and they will also have to pay interest on the bills at the rate of two and one-half per cent.

Close said he estimates that about 1,000 persons will receive duplicate bills based on experience in former years. The interest on unpaid county tax bills for December is two per cent.

The 50-cent service charge is made to cover the cost of handling the bills and mailing. Close pointed out.

Up until now collections of the county tax levy for 1957, has reached 95 per cent of the total. About $2,220,000 has been realized. Approximately $50,000 in county taxes for 1957 remain unpaid, Close estimates.

A large portion of the county taxpayers submitted the money for their bills last June in order to obtain the five per cent discount allowed. The discount rate dropped to four per cent in July and three per cent in August. After that the county charged interest on unpaid bills.

Garrett Plans Changes For Registration

Permanent System To Be Started By Board January 1

Garrett County voters will have a permanent registration system beginning January 1, Ward Hinebaugh, president of the Garrett County Board of Election Supervisors, announced today.

Authorization to change to the permanent method was given last week by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners on motion of Irvin Roth, commissioner, and on the second of H. D. Swartzentruber, board president.

Clerk Advanced
The election board had to call a special meeting on November 27 to discuss a clause in the election laws that required, in the absence of a permanent system, two sets of books to be sent to each polling place.

Hinebaugh explained that there are only two judges, one from each party, at each polling place.

The board then voted for a permanent system where one set of books, with two judges would be sufficient. This action was subject to the approval of the county commissioners which was forthcoming.

Hinebaugh reported that the clerk to the election board, Russell Smith, has been advanced to chief clerk and Republican registrar for the new system.

Open Five Days Weekly
The Democratic registrar has not been selected, he added.

After the first of the year, Garrett County residents will be able to register on the voting books five days a week at the election board office in the Court House in Oakland.

The board is comprised of Hinebaugh, who is serving in the place of William Gibson, who is ill, Roger Bond, McHenry, and Harvey Gortner, Grantsville. The latter is the Democrat or minority party member. Attorney for the board is Charles C. Nathan of Grantsville.

LaVale Fire Group Elects Zembower

Cromwell C. Zembower was elected president of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company last night in the fire hall.

He succeeds Thomas L. Smith, who did not run for re-election.

Officers re-elected were Waverly Rice, vice president; Paul Boch, recording secretary; James H. Schell, financial secretary; and William Morgan, treasurer.

Others chosen were Richard H. Burkey, three-year trustee; James H. Loar, chief; Ralph Deligatti, assistant chief; Elmer Eshbaugh, sergeant-at-arms, and Mark W. Volk, chaplain.

Smith observed the 1957 fund drive was a success and expressed the appreciation of the fire company for the generous contributions received for the maintenance of the unit's equipment and facilities.

The firemen also voted to erect a community Christmas tree in front of the fire hall. Bruce Long was named chairman of this committee.

Installation of officers will be held Tuesday, January 14, by an officer of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Zembower, a past president of the Maryland State Firemen's Association, has served as president of the LaVale unit for a number of terms.

County Heads Informed On Assessments

Legislative Council Actions Slated For Meeting Consideration

ANNAPOLIS — Legislation was expected to be outlined before Maryland county commissioners today to allow them to continue to assess business inventories and public utilities at full cash value.

A recent State Court of Appeals decision said that such assessments must be made on the same basis as real estate levies, in which allowances are made for inflationary trends. Few counties assess real property at 100 per cent evaluation as they do inventories.

Revenue Problems
Albert Ward, executive secretary of the State Tax Commission, was scheduled to explain to the State Assn. of County Commissioners how the decision will affect county revenues.

He planned to discuss proposed legislation which would allow the counties and Baltimore City to continue present taxing methods. About 70 commissioners from 20 counties were registered for the day-long meeting. They will study Legislative Council actions and other legislation proposed for the 1958 General Assembly, which convenes in February.

To Review Reports
John S. Shriver, director of the Legislature's Fiscal Research Bureau, planned to review the Northrop Committee report and its nine recommendations on State finances and a report from a special Legislative Council subcommittee on personal property taxes. The Northrop Committee is a standing group of legislators which studies State fiscal problems.

Also scheduled to speak was Clement W. Gaines, chief of the Bureau of Management of the State Department of Health. Gaines planned to seek support for a uniform system of payments to the Department of Health for county residents in chronic disease hospitals.

The commissioners also planned to elect new state officers at the meeting. Thomas N. Kay of Cecil County is the incumbent president.

Pistol Flasher Given Request For Jury Trial

HAGERSTOWN — John R. Walling of Bristol, Tenn., asked and was granted a jury trial today on charges he pulled a gun on two Cumberland men picketing a building project.

Walling posted $200 bond for the February term of Criminal Court. Marvin Wright and Ray Riggall swore out warrants that he threatened them with a gun while they were picketing the Fairchild Aircraft Division on Oct. 31 and Nov. 4.

Walling was a foreman for the Holston Steel Structure Co., which was putting up a building for Fairchild. Wright and Riggall were members of the Iron Workers Union which was picketing the construction on a claim that non-union steelworkers were being employed on it.

Charles Area Plans Survey

LA PLATA, Md. — The Charles County commissioners have decided to consult a development engineering firm for a survey on the county's natural resources, and its economic and residential potential.

John L. Sullivan, president of the commissioners, said the survey would be the first step toward establishing zoning in the county. Sullivan and fellow-Democrat W. Edward Berry, who introduced the motion, voted to seek the survey. The other commissioner, Republican Lemuel Wilmer, voted against the proposal.

Berry said he initiated the action because of rapid growth in the county, the changing character of the economy (including a mass layoff at the Navy Powder Factory at Indian Head), reports of housing and industrial development, and a changing status of agriculture.

Berry said it was time to move to protect the county's resources and real estate values.

Interstate Road Asked By West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — An interstate highway through central West Virginia from the Pennsylvania border to the turnpike entrance at Beckley has been requested by the State Road Commission.

Road Commissioner Patrick C. Graney announced yesterday that the mileage allocation, which would provide a second north-south route through the state, has been sought from the U.S. Bureau of Roads.

The route would run from the Pennsylvania border northeast of Morgantown near Mount Morris, Pa. to the West Virginia Turnpike entrance near Beckley.

The Bureau of Public Roads previously granted West Virginia interstate highway mileage stretching along what is presently U.S. 21 from the Ohio River near Parkersburg to the Virginia border near Princeton.

The new interstate highway, if granted, might be continued on into Pennsylvania. Last summer road officials of that state applied for additional interstate mileage northward from Mount Morris to connect with another interstate route proposed in the vicinity of Washington, Pa.

It was understood that this route would be extended to Lake Erie.

LaVale Civic Group Meets

The Board of Directors of LaVale Civil Improvement Association met Monday night at LaVale Fire Hall with Gilbert Bohn, chairman, presiding.

Lloyd Buchanan, chairman of the street sign committee, reported signs have arrived and are being installed. He urged care be taken of the signs since they are property of citizens of LaVale. He said damage to signs should be reported since new ones may have to be ordered. He also asked witnesses to report damage by vehicles since there is a possibility of insurance coverage.

Brief reports were made by George Dressman for the post office committee, Bohn for recreation and John Rowan for zoning.

Romney Tops W. Va. Deaf To Throw Race Into Deadlock

Romney High moved into a tie with Piedmont for the top slot in the Potomac Valley Conference basketball race last night with a 54-50 victory over the 1957 champs, West Virginia School for the Deaf, despite a desperate last-quarter rally by the Lions.

Romney, undefeated in two starts, had the situation well in hand and was on top, 49-26, going into the final stanza when the Lions caught fire and outscored coach Clyde Green's quint, 24-9, but fell four points short of sending the game into overtime. The loss was the second for West Virginia Deaf in two PVC games, Ridgeley having beaten the Lions, 61-61, in the lifeliner.

Jackets Play Tonight Only one game is on tap tonight, Morefield playing host to Mathias. The Jackets have an 0-1 record, losing to Wardsville, 71-59, in their first start last week. Mathias lost its first game last night when being handed a 55-54 setback by Capon Bridge on the Mathias floor.

Circleville and Fort Ashby joined with Capon in launching successfully their PVC campaigns. The Indians trimmed Petersburg, 58-55, while Fort Ashby tripped Wardsville, 64-62, in overtime on the Warriors' court. Ridgeley also won its first after losing to Romney as the Hawks set down Elk Garden, 50-39, at the Slags' gym. The loss was the second in a row for the Elks while Wardsville is now 1-1 and Petersburg 0-2 for the season.

Romney's "Big Three" of Bill Wolford, Harlan Liller and Bill Maples paced the Pioneers by hooping 41 tallies. Wolford tossed in 15, Liller 14 and Maples a dozen. Vernon Derickson sparked the Lions with 15 markers. Romney was never in danger with high-scoring second and third quarters but fell flat in the final period when the Lions nearly equalled their total output for three quarters by hooping 24 points.

The Pioneers actually won at the free-throw line, getting 12 of 28 shots while the Lions could hit only eight of 24. Both clubs had 21 field goals.

Hawks Top Slags Ridgeley made its record 2-1 in the league as the Hawks put on a last-quarter spurt to whip Elk Garden. Mike Detrick, Dave Baker and Bill Scott headed the point-making with 15, 14 and 13 tallies. Ridgeley, in front by only 30-29 at the end of the third period, poured in 20 tallies in the final eight minutes while holding the Slags to 10.

Six-foot, eight-inch John Smith paced the Elks with 10 points. The Ridgeley JVs gave the invaders a sweep by winning the preliminary, 39-38, over the Little Elks.

In the league's highest-scoring affair, Fort Ashby won over Wardsville in overtime as Bill Price shoved in a field goal for the two-point, 64-62, triumph. The regulation game ended, 60-61. Sam Barnes and Virgil Heishman swapped buckets as the extra heat began and then Price came through with his game-winning effort.

Barnes collected 11 field goals and seven fouls to bang home 29 markers for the Eagles while Bill Orndorff tossed in 21 for the Warriors.

Doug Whitacre and Alan Thorne shared 40 points as Capon Bridge won over Mathias. Capon had led all during the first half and then slipped behind, 45-40, in the third quarter. Again a strong last-period decided the outcome. Don Moyer had 21 points for Mathias.

Circleville's Charles Teter lost

Turner, Martinez In Welterweight Elimination Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gil Turner and Vince Martinez will fight at the Philadelphia Arena Jan. 15 in another elimination bout to determine a successor to welterweight champion Carmen Basilio.

The 12-round fight will be televised nationally, with the Philadelphia area blacked out. This was announced yesterday by promoter Herman Taylor who hasn't staged a major bout since the ill-fated Jarold Johnson-Julius Mederos fight in May, 1955.

After Johnson lost by a TKO it was charged that he had been drugged. Boxing in Pennsylvania was suspended for 90 days. It will be the second elimination bout to determine a new welterweight champion. At the first bout last Friday in Cleveland, Isaac Logart eliminated Caspar Ortega from the title picture with a 12-round decision.

The other fighters involved in the six-man elimination tourney are George Barnes of Australia and Virgil Akins of St. Louis.

Knicks Prove Hot To Handle For Celtics

By The Associated Press. The New York Knickerbockers haven't really set the world on fire this year in the National Basketball Assn. but to the Boston Celtics they're "too hot to handle."

The Knicks handed the Celtics their third loss of the season, against 19 wins last night. It was the second time the New Yorkers turned the trick in four games with the Celtics. The Knicks won 106-103 in the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, after the St. Louis Hawks bounced the Cincinnati Royals 102-90 in the opener.

At Detroit, the Syracuse Chiefs hunt it on the Minneapolis Lakers 114-104 and the Philadelphia Warriors beat the Detroit Pistons 109-97. These were the only games scheduled.

The Celtics, who saw a 14 game winning streak go by the boards two weeks ago at the hands of the Knicks, couldn't withstand a furious New York closing drive. They were hurt when Bill Russell fouled out with 6½ minutes to play and were unable to stop Richie Guerin's sharpshooting, which netted 12 points in the final six minutes.

Guerin led the winners with 28 points and Russell had 25, plus 28 rebounds, for the Celtics.

Luedee Meets Yvon Durelle

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Freewheeling Jerry Luedee, a tree surgeon when he's not boxing, will try to cut Yvon Durelle down tonight in a light heavyweight fight.

Durelle, the British Empire light heavy champion, is a 7-5 favorite however, on the basis of a split decision over Luedee a year ago, a fine showing in a draw with highly regarded Tony Anthony, and greater experience.

Durelle, a rough and tough ringsman, is aiming for a match with champion Archie Moore and will be out for an impressive decision over Luedee.

Luedee, 24, who learned to box while an Army artilleryman, figures he is on the way up and is determined not to let the Canadian fisherman throw a block in his path. He has been fighting professionally only four years and has a 30-6-1 record, with 15 knockout victories.

The bout, scheduled for 10 rounds, will be televised nationally (ABC) at 10 p.m. (EST).

Albert Hopes 49ers 'Luck To Continue'

By JACK STEVENSON
SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — "Sure, we've been lucky. You've got to be lucky to be alive in this race. And we may be lucky again."

Thus coach Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers admits that the fickle football fates helped his team this season. He adds that there has been solid play by a club that wants to win.

Dobbins Sign Weeb Ewbank To Year Pact

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts has plenty of worries as he prepares for Sunday's big game against the Los Angeles Rams, but he can relax if he's thinking about his 1958 contract.

Carroll Rosenbloom, Colts president and principal owner, announced yesterday the little coach will be retained next season at a substantial increase in salary. He said details such as length of the contract will be worked out later.

Just one year ago, Ewbank was under fire and rumors had it he would be fired. The Colts lost to San Francisco and Los Angeles on the West Coast near the end of the season, but wound up with a victory over Washington at home and Ewbank was retained.

Baltimore lost to San Francisco 17-13 last Sunday, but its record is 7-4 and the Colts are still in a first place tie with the 49ers and Detroit Lions in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

Rosenbloom said he made the announcement now "to kill once and for all the irksome rumors that have been bobbing up during the year" that Ewbank would be replaced. Ewbank is finishing up his fourth season as coach of the Colts.

Eagles Will Unload Coach Hugh Devore

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles will unload Coach Hugh Devore at the end of this National Football League season.

A reliable source said Devore would be paid off for the final year of his three-year contract. The club reportedly will try to get the affable former Notre Dame star and coach to resign; but if he refuses, it will be the ax.

Devore said, "There has been no intimation by anyone in the front office of an impending change. I do not intend to resign. I never have considered such a move."

Devore was signed to a three-year contract in January 1956 after Jim Trimble was dismissed. Last season, his first at the helm, the Eagles won 3, lost 8, tied 1, and finished last in the NFL's Eastern Conference. This year, with one more game to play, the Birds are 4-7.

Vince McNally, general manager, already has drawn up a list of possible successors, including Jim Tatum, North Carolina mentor; Buck Shaw of the U. S. Air Force Academy; and Wally Butts of Georgia.

Clemson Upsets NC State Quint In ACC Battle

By The Associated Press
Little (by basketball's yardstick) Tommy Kearns, a 5-11 senior, led the nation's No. 1 team, North Carolina, to an 86-59 victory over George Washington last night.

It was the Tar Heels' 34th consecutive victory and Kearns contributed 22 points to the cause.

As North Carolina romped over the Southern Conference team, an Atlantic Coast Conference game saw 12th-ranked North Carolina State bow to Clemson 59-53. Those two games were the only action involving ACC teams.

North Carolina State travels to South Carolina for an ACC game tonight while another conference member, Wake Forest, is host to visiting Texas A & M of the Southwestern Conference.

Kearns' scoring spree duplicated his performance in the Tar Heels opening game last Saturday when he dumped in 32 points as North Carolina beat Clemson 79-55.

Clemson, unranked nationally, fought N. C. State a see-saw battle then took the lead for keeps about midway in the second half. Going into the game State held a 2-0 record and Clemson 0-3.

Walter Gibbons with 21 points and Ed Brinkley with 14 paced the victors, while Bob MacGillivray with 15 and Whitey Bell with 14 led State.

Orioles List Record Number Night Games

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles will play 48 home baseball games at night next season, a record for the American League, they announced today.

The former high for night games in the league was 45 by Washington in 1953, according to Jack Dunn, assistant general manager of the Orioles. Baltimore played the most last season, 43.

Mayor Confident Getting Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Wagner's Baseball Committee feels "reasonably confident" it can win an existing National League franchise to New York City.

1. Commissioner Ford Frick will help the NL to keep its territorial rights here.

2. The New York Yankees don't press too hard to keep the metropolitan area solely for the American League.

3. Park Commissioner Robert Moses, the man with the ways and means, will throw in his support in a stadium project.

The "existing franchise" mentioned by the committee in a telegram to Frick was not identified, although Cincinnati and Chicago have been mentioned in the past, and Pittsburgh has been cropping up in more recent rumors.

Schwartzwalder Right On Syracuse's Brown

MANHASSET, N.Y. — When Coach Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse was asked to compare his former star Jimmy Brown with Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, the coach said in effect:

"Brown will show his stuff in the pro ranks next year and he will do more than Hornung."

Schwartzwalder was right for after the first eight games of the National Football League campaign, Brown, now with the Cleveland Browns, was the leading ball carrier in the league with a 4.1 average on 130 attempts. Hornung, a member of the tail-end Green Bay Packers, was well down the NFL statistic list.

Dick Christy of North Carolina State carried the ball 348 times during his varsity football career. He gained a net of 1,817 yards.

Free Parking
For Yuletide
Shoppers Set

FROSTBURG — William Sluss, police commissioner, announced today that the Police Department will give free parking on meters Monday and Tuesday preceding Christmas.

Commissioner Sluss said this measure is being taken to aid the Christmas shoppers and not worry them about hurrying back to the meters in order not to run overtime. However, he said, he hoped that employees of business establishments and shoppers would not park their cars indiscriminately and leave them for long periods of time just because there will be free parking.

The commissioner also revealed that upon notification by the tenant of any home who will be leaving town on vacation, police will check their residence twice every 24 hours. He said it is a public service which the department is offering to the public, and not one which police are required to do.

'Buddhism' Talk
Given Gleaners
Methodist Class

FROSTBURG — "Buddhism" was the topic used by Rev. Paul V. Taylor, pastor of Zion United Church of Christ, in speaking to the Gleaners Class of First Methodist Church at their December meeting. He used colored slides to illustrate his talk.

Mrs. Thomas Powell, president, opened the meeting with two Christmas readings, "Christmas Bells" by Longfellow and "Christmas Carols" by Whittier. Reford Aldridge, devotional leader, used as his theme "Christmas Is For Children." Also included in the service were the Christmas hymns, "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," "Joy To The World" and "Silent Night."

The carol, "O Little Town Of Bethlehem," was narrated by Mrs. Aldridge, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Ives. In keeping with the theme, a collection was received for the Women's Auxiliary of the Board of Child Care to be used for gifts and parties this Christmas in Methodist orphanage homes.

James Elias, accompanied by Mrs. Ives, sang two selections, "Lo The Son Of God Is Born" and "Watchman, Tell Us Of The Nights."

Following the program and business meeting, the committee served refreshments from tables decorated in the traditional evergreens, candles and choral angels. Hostesses were Mrs. Henry Shaffer, chairman, Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Ralph Patterson, Mrs. Olin Savage, Mrs. Gertrude Engle and Miss Mary Smith.

The next meeting will be the New Year's party scheduled for January 2 with Mrs. Ruth Morgan, Mrs. Ruth Todd, Mrs. Roy Boettner, Mrs. Cecil Croft and Mrs. Edgar Grose in charge of arrangements.

Favorite TV Programs For 1957 Are Selected

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Having voted in nearly everybody else's television poll as this year draws to a close, I now vote in my own poll. For that pretentious adjective "best," however, let's substitute a more modest "favorite."
Single show of the year—"The Green Pastures" on Hall of Fame (NBC-TV).
Regular live drama program—Studio One (CBS-TV).
Regular filmed drama program—You name it: I can't.
New musical variety show—"The Patrice Munsel Show" (ABC-TV).
Situation comedy—I continue to smile after all these years with Father Knows Best (NBC-TV).
Western—I still ride with Wyatt Earp (ABC-TV).
Quiz program—I pass.

Daily coverage of the news—Chet Huntley and David Brinkley (NBC-TV).
Weekly news review—Outlook (NBC-TV).
Program of consistently intelligent interest, whatever its subject happens to be—See It Now (CBS-TV).
Interview program—Mike Wallace (ABC-TV).
Delving in the various arts—Omnibus (NBC-TV).
Examination of the world of science—Conquest (CBS-TV).
Random travel and amateur adventure—Bold Journey (ABC-TV).
Weekly examination of contemporary history—20th Century (CBS-TV).
Ambitious regular monthly entertainment effort, with even its failures noble ones—Show of the Month (CBS-TV).
Biweekly wandering around with cameras all over the place—Wide World (NBC-TV).
Fairy tale—"The Millionaire" (CBS-TV).
Superspecial blueplate—"Annie Get Your Gun" (NBC-TV).
Comedian (before he took a vacation)—Jackie Gleason.
Comedian (after he took a vacation)—Jack Paar.
Female entertainment personality—Polly Bergen.
Male entertainment personality—Perry Como.

New Orders Halt Temporary "Hunting" Duty Practices Of Group Of Army Officers

CAMP A. P. HILL, Va. (AP)—for $1. Virginia law says that any military personnel "stationed or located" in the state is eligible for a local license.
The license fee for non-state residents is $15.25, plus $2.50 for a deer stamp.
The new order by Col. Paul Burke, camp commander, states that only military personnel who are residents of the Old Dominion or who are present in the state "for training purposes" are authorized here with a resident state or county license.
Burke's order, disclosed today, was dated Nov. 23, one day after a conference between Ft. Meade officials and I. T. Quinn, executive director of the State Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

Quinn on Nov. 20 criticized the temporary duty assignment practice when told by a reporter that Caroline authorities said they had issued 80 licenses to Ft. Meade personnel on the basis of temporary duty orders.
But after the conference, Quinn said in a statement "there has been no violation of the law or the spirit of the law in the assignment of military personnel, regardless of rank, to A. P. Hill for rest and recreation."
Quinn's statement that day made no mention of the reversal in Army policy which followed. The group which hunted here on temporary orders was "only a small percentage of the total number of military personnel who have used the 77,000-acre reservation since the season opened Nov. 18."
